US-IRAQ HIGHER EDUCATION PARTNERSHIPS (HEP)

2016 SMALL GRANTS

DEADLINE: NOVEMBER 22, 2015

Supported by the U.S. Embassy, Baghdad

1. OVERVIEW OF THE US-IRAQ HIGHER EDUCATION PARTNERSHIPS (HEP)

The US-Iraq Higher Education Partnerships (HEP) promotes higher education reform in Iraq. Through the HEP, Iraqi universities become more engaged within the global community and catalyze social, political, and economic development in Iraq. Through capacity building activities within the HEP, Iraqi faculty become better equipped to conduct ongoing curriculum review while raising the standard of their curriculum to model internationally recognized accreditation standards.

Through the previous University Linkages Program, the U.S. Embassy in Baghdad has made an important contribution to strengthening Iraqi universities through its focus on partnerships and linkages to U.S. universities. To further build on this foundation of cultural understanding and capacity building, IREX is pleased to announce a new small grants program, the Higher Education Partnership. Under the HEP, all public universities under auspices of the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research are invited to apply .

These small grants will provide an opportunity to support creative ideas that build and foster sustainable relationships in priority areas for Iraqi higher education and expand the impact for participating faculty and departments. Grants would be aimed at providing seed funding for U.S. and Iraqi partners to develop longer term relationships and partnerships.

Applicants are invited to develop a project that will be completed within 6-12 months. Applicants can request from $5,000 to $50,000 for the project. Grants receiving higher amounts of funding must show broad impact to multiple beneficiaries. IREX reserves the right to suggest alterations to an applicant's budget or to fund some, but not all, components of an application.

Possible areas for collaboration for this grant could include:

- Focused capacity building in faculty instructional strategies in a specific academic department
- Review and update the curriculum for a specific degree program
- University Administration
- Industry Engagement
- Collaborative research projects, particularly in STEM fields;
- Capacity building in English language teaching and learning;
- Establishment of distance learning programs;
- Development of information systems to establish digital record keeping;
- Modernization of libraries and publication resources;
- Development of career advisory services on campuses;
- Counseling and intervention services on campuses for victims of violence and other psychological distress;
- Initiatives to promote tolerance and peaceful activities on campuses;
- Activities to build youth-based approaches to countering violent extremism

In the application, each stage should have clearly identified benchmarks and measurable signs of progress. The application and budget should clearly identify specific, realistic cost estimates related to project products, such as training materials, travel, or consulting fees.

2. ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Applicants must hold a full-time position as a faculty or administrator at one of the eligible public universities in Iraq. Previous ULP Small Grants recipients are eligible to apply, but priority will be given to applicants who have not previously participated in the ULP.

All public universities under auspices of the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research are eligible to apply.

Current IREX employees and consultants and their immediate family members (spouses, parents, children, and siblings) are not eligible to compete in any IREX-administered grant programs, either as individuals or as the responsible party representing an institutional applicant.
